American + Red Cross

For the coming month, Mrs. Louis F. Maumus, will be greatly missed at her desk in the Office of the Red Cross, while her youngest son, Louis, is undergoing a very serious operation and her mother is ill.

Mrs. Maumus has given her time most unstintingly since she took over the responsibilities of serving as Executive Secretary of Hancock County Chapter of the American Red Cross. Many will remember back a few years, when the office was first organized toward fulfilling an obligation which all felt due the people of this county. Mrs. Maumus was new on the job, but she applied such diligent thought and research to her work, that it was not long before she was a veteran in this field of endeavor.

From those who have worked with her as well as the many who can't help but feel that she is a person who has served in this hour of distress, we wish the very speediest and successful recovery for both her young son and her mother.

Last week there was a letter of thanks to the schools for the lovely Mother's Day cards which were made and sent to the hospitals. We omitted to give full credit to the Waveland School for this task. So to Miss Mary Perkins and her school children our commendations for a very good and most appreciated piece of work.

WATERPROOFING OUR PEOPLE

Most drownings occur during May, June, July and August. Hancock County has quite a long beach front, however, we have been fairly lucky with a low fatality rate from drownings. But this can be made even lower, by the Red Cross "Waterproofing Program." Plans for a platform are under way, where swimming instruction will be given free of charge to all who may desire them. Mrs. Goldman, Water Safety Chairman, has given her time and talents to this service every summer, but most of her students have been among the junior populace. This summer however, in addition to Mrs. Goldman's excellent work, there will be an Instructors Course, furnished by the Red Cross, absolutely free of any charge, for adults from nineteen years upward. This is quite a feather in the cap of this County, as this course is not given to all communities, so it should be taken advantage of. The instructions start on July 16th and continue through the 29th. All information may be obtained either by contacting Mrs. Goldman or thru the office of the Red Cross.

So young folks, old folks, middle age folks, please do not neglect this generous offer. Your Uncle Sam makes everyone of his men take a "Waterproofing" Course, he has found that the training received by his men, from the Red Cross instructors, who train them, have saved many a life in this war. We feel that the good judgment of Uncle Sam can't be beat, so let's all learn how to take care of our selves in the water, and become "waterproofed" through the facilities of the Red Cross.

Played Important Part In The Liberation of Northern Italy

PFC. MORRIS J. BOURGEOIS

At a 12th Air Force C-47 Base in Italy—Private First Class Morris J. Bourgeois, 409 S. Solomon Street, New Orleans, La., has played an important role in the liberation of Northern Italy.

Private Bourgeois is a member of "Cerny's Circus," the veteran 64th Troop Carrier Group of the 12th Air Force, commanded by Colonel John Cerny, of Harrison, Idaho. He is the husband of Mrs. Ruby Bourgeois, New Orleans, La., and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bourgeois of Waveland, Mississippi.

Since last January up until the capitulation of the German forces in Italy, Private Bourgeois' group has been actively engaged in dropping supplies to Italian Partisans located far behind the enemy lines. These are the same partisans who freed such cities as Bologna, Genoa, Turin, and Milan, from the Nazi yoke.

His group flew day and night missions to drop supplies by parachute to pin-point targets located high up in rugged mountainous terrain.

Protected during the daylight missions by U. S. or British flown planes, the vulnerable transports flew alone over enemy lines at night. On all missions it was necessary to fly over or near large concentrations of German anti-aircraft artillery. Yet, losses were extremely light and the bulk of the guns, explosives, food, clothing, and medical supplies, were successfully dropped to the Partisans.

Private Bourgeois worked for Longino and Collins, Inc., New Orleans, La.

MISSISSIPPI POWER CO. TO DOUBLE CAPACITY OF ITS NEW STEAM ELECTRIC GENERATING PLANT

L. P. Sweatt Announces Maj- or Construction Project Af- fecting Postwar Employment And Area Development

Construction on the second unit of Plant Eaton, new steam electric generating plant of Mississippi Power Company located on Leaf River near Hattiesburg, will commence within 90 days, L. P. Sweatt, President of the Company, announced today, advising that the Company's application for authority to proceed with this project had been approved.

The initial 22,500 kilowatt unit of Plant Eaton now in its last construction stages, was begun in February 1944 and is in daily operation.

"With the completion of the second unit," said Mr. Sweatt, "Mississippi's great new power plant will have a capacity of a million kilowatt-hours a day."

"Construction of the new unit," said Mr. Sweatt, "will not be on the rush basis necessarily pursued in completing the initial installation required to carry increased war loads, but will tie in with the national reconversion program."

"We estimate that the new construction will provide employment at the plant site equivalent to nearly 200 men working for a year, and the construction phases alone will thus contribute substantially to the section's postwar reconversion job."

Mr. Sweatt pointed out that the 22,500 kilowatts of added generating capacity, a new industry in itself, will further augment the margin of power supply presently available for industrial, farm, commercial, and residential uses. With the completion of the second unit, there will be 60,000 horsepower of efficient modern generating capacity available in this one power plant located less than 100 miles from any point in Southeastern Mississippi and closely interconnected with this section of the state through a power transmission system which, in effect, makes this plant available to every community and rural area in the territory.

"The increasing oil development, plans for expansion of existing industries, and the indicated future industrial and rural growth of the territory have materially affected our decisions to proceed with this work."

Mr. Sweatt stated "It is a mark of our faith in the postwar future of Mississippi backed up by heavy cash outlays."

The Company's proposed expenditures for the new unit and expenditures for additions to plant and equipment made since Pearl Harbor aggregate in excess of $4,000,000.

MACMURRAY, COLBERT STAR IN "PRACTICALLY YOURS"

At A. & G. Theatre Sunday
And Monday

There's a certain quality about "Practically Yours" the Paramount picture arriving at the A. & G. Theatre Sunday and Monday, that's bound to make the customers sit up and take notice, according to hear-say.

This quality it's said, is a mixture of comedy, surprise, romance and a few other good things to keep movie-goers entertained in high style. The cast, itself, is a standout one with Fred MacMurray and Claudette Colbert co-starring. Then for the support, the list of outstanding players include Gil Lamb, Cecil Kellaway, Robert Benchley, Tom Powers, Jane Frazee, Rosemary De Camp, Isobel Randolph and Mikhail Rasumny.

The fact too that this is a Mitchell Leisen production with a screenplay by Norman Krasna, heightens further the prestige of the film. "Practically Yours" has a trick beginning, which starts the laughter rolling early with no let-up until the final fadeout. As for action, there's plenty of that, too. The previewers report that MacMurray finds a rival in Gil Lamb for Claudette's affections. That should be the tip-off on the comedy routines which follow.

The story tells of the misunderstanding between Fred and Miss Colbert upon his return to the United States as a Navy hero. The public press and everyone else believes Claudette to be Fred's "girl back home." It isn't really so. That's where the fun starts. Revealing any more of the plot isn't cricket, though Suffice it to say, that the comedy flows as steadily as water under a bridge with complications arising one after the other.

Fred and Claudette, who have teamed in such hits as "The Gilded Lily" and "No Time for Love" are in high gear again for "Practically Yours," and if the opinions of the film capital's inner set is valued, a treat is in store for lovers of screen comedy.

Business Schools

Business men who sell beer at retail are going to school again as this Committee holds series of meetings throughout the state with all retail beer dealers. In these meetings or schools, the retailer is thoroughly informed as to the state beer laws, as to the proper operation of his business, as to the regulations of the Beer Division of the State Tax Commission and as to his responsibilities to the public.

Through this educational work, this Committee is constantly improving the conditions that surround the sale of beer. Retailers are recognizing their responsibility and are observing the letter and spirit of the law.

We urge you to patronize only those who regard their retail beer permit as a privilege they will not abuse.

A LETTER

The following letter has been submitted for publication by Mrs. Lawrence Dragma, the former Miss Mercedes Asher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Camille Asher, Star Route, Bay St. Louis. This was written by Mr. Dragma to his young son:

"Dear Son, I was just looking at a photograph of yourself sent to me recently by your dear mother. I suddenly realized how neglected my duty to you would be should God not spare me to return home to you, your mother, your sister and the responsibilities along with them. That is the purpose of this man to man talk we are about to have.

Yes, Son, you're a mite of a boy in that picture but tonight I see you as a Christian man, honest, Godfearing and straightforward, admired and respected by your mother, sister and your fellow men. A man, unafraid to meet tomorrow's world, tomorrow's life alone—a man whom your family and relatives are mighty proud of and claim.

Yes, son, life is not easy and the road is tough, disappointment and disillusion will be many. But they can be licked with determination and courage. That's why we're here today; to make jolts and bumps in life a little easier for you to make this a more peaceful world for everyone to enjoy life, liberty, ambitions and freedom of worshipping of God as He has always intended it should be; to make all the good things our Government and country stand for and represent—a reality and not a dream. It that has been accomplished then our sacrifices of today has not been in vain.

Tonight go because you're a man.

This quality, it's said, is a mixture of comedy, surprise, romance and a few other good things to keep moviegoers entertained in high style. The cast, itself, is a standout one with Fred MacMurray and Claudette Colbert co-starring. Then for the support, the list of outstanding players include Gil Lamb, Cecil Kellaway, Robert Benchley, Tom Powers, Jane Frazee, Rosemary De Camp, Isobel Randolph and Mikhail Rasumny.

The fact too that this is a Mitchell Leisen production with a screenplay by Norman Krasna, heightens further prestige of the film. "Practically Yours" has a trick beginning, gossipers report, which starts the laughter rolling early with no let-up until the final fadeout. As for action, there's plenty of that, too. The previewers report that MacMurray finds a rival in Gil Lamb for Claudette's affections. That should be the tip-off on the comedy routines which follow.

The story tells of the misunderstanding between Fred and Miss Colbert upon his return to the United States as a Navy hero. The public press and everyone else believes Claudette to be Fred's "girl back home." It isn't really so. That's where the fun starts. Revealing any more of the plot isn't cricket, though suffice it to say, that the comedy flows as steadily as water under a bridge with complications arising one after the other.

Fred and Claudette, who have teamed in such hits as "The Gilded Lily" and "No Time for Love" are in high gear again for "Practically Yours," and if the opinions of the film capital's inner set is valued, a treat is in store for lovers of screen comedy.

Business Schools

Business men who sell beer at retail are going to school again as this Committee holds series of meetings throughout the state with all retail beer dealers. In these meetings or schools, the retailer is thoroughly informed as to the state beer laws, as to the proper operation of his business, as to the regulations of the Beer Division of the State Tax Commission and as to his responsibilities to the public.

Through this educational work, this Committee is constantly improving the conditions that surround the sale of beer. Retailers are recognizing their responsibility and are observing the letter and spirit of the law.

We urge you to patronize only those who regard their retail beer permit as a privilege they will not abuse

A LETTER

The following letter has been submitted for publication by Mrs. Lawrence Dragma, the former Miss Mercedes Asher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Camille Asher, Star Route, Bay St. Louis. This was written by Mr. Dragma to his young son:

"Dear Son. I was just looking at a photograph of yourself sent to me recently by your dear mother. I suddenly realized how neglected my duty to you would be should God not spare me to return home to you, your mother, your sister and the responsibilities along with them. That is the purpose of this man to man talk we are about to have.

Yes, Son, you're a mite of a boy in that picture but tonight I see you as a Christian, man, honest, Godfearing and straightforward, admired and respected by your mother, sister and your fellow men. A man unafraid to meet tomorrow's world, tomorrow's life alone—a man whom your family and relatives are mighty proud of and claim.

Dear son, life is not easy and the road is tough, disappointment and disillusion will be many. But they can be licked with determination and courage. That's why we're here today; to make jolts and bumps in life a little easier for you to make this a more peaceful world for everyone to enjoy life, liberty, ambitions and freedom of worshipping of God as He has always intended it should be; to make all the good things our Government and country stand for and represent—a reality and not a dream. It that has been accomplished then our sacrifices of today has not been in vain.

Tonight son because you're a man.

ORTTE THEATER SUNDAY-MONDAY

STICK ON THE JOB!

...the War is yet to be WON!

Hitler and his gang are crushed! Europe is free of the Nazi!

All honor to our victorious troops and gallant Allies for beating the vicious Nazi into surrender... and so freeing conquered millions... keeping high the standards of liberty, freedom and justice.

But in the Pacific, in China, Burma and the islands of Japan we are still faced by a powerful enemy—the treacherous enemy that struck us without warning at Pearl Harbor—killed our captured airmen—committed the Hong-kong horror.

Yes, there is still a war to be won!

In the midst of rejoicing over our German conquest—and let it be heartfelt—Americans must not forget that our boys will still be fighting that the terror in the Pacific may be ended—forever.

Yes, there is still a war to be won!

LET'S STICK ON THE JOB TO BE DONE, UNTIL THE WAR IS WON!

These men can tell you why the 7TH WAR LOAN is the BIGGEST yet!

YOU ARE being asked to lend more money than ever before—in the 7th War Loan.

These men can tell you why.

They can tell you of giant ships ready to slide down the ways this year. They can tell you of a whole new air force in the building—huge new bombers and fast new jet-propelled planes coming off the lines by thousands.

They could show you why it is cheaper and quicker to give our Pacific Forces entirely new equipment sometimes—instead of shipping tanks and guns from Europe.

They can, in short, show you 101 ways in which your dollars are needed more than ever to bring America's might to its full strength—so that we may crush our foe the faster, make an end of killing, and bring our men back home.

Will you tell these men "I can't afford to buy my share"?

But other men can show us something, too.

They're the men with twisted, crippled limbs . . . with clever iron hooks instead of hands. The blind men . . . the men with scarred, seamed faces. And perhaps worst of all, the men with blasted, darkened minds.

They can show us, clearly, how small is any sacrifice we make in lending money.

ORTIE THEATRE SUNDAY AND MONDAY "FRISCO SAL"

Susanna Foster, Turhan Bey
With Alan Curtis

"Frisko Sal" is in town and if ever there was a gal—or a movie—worth making a date to see, it's "Frisko Sal." The Universal picture starring Susanna Foster as Sal, and Turhan Bey and Alan Curtis opens Sunday and Monday at the Ortie Theatre. It will be extremely well received, as it fully deserves to be.

Its fast-moving, interesting story is told against the colorful background of the Barbary Coast in the gusty, lusty Nineties. Susanna as Sal, a New England choir singer, arrives in San Francisco to trace her brother who is believed murdered. She maneuvers herself into a singing job in Turhan Bey's music hall, suspecting him of some connection with her brother's disappearance.

Bey, who is having trouble with a gang of hoodlums led by Alan Curtis, at first wishes she would go back to New England. But gradually he and Susanna become attached to each other. Their romance is short-lived, however, when Susanna is told by one of Curtis' men, that Bey murdered her brother.

It is only after she walks out on Bey that Susanna gets a clearer perspective on the track that leads her, not to her brother's murderer, but to her brother himself.

"Frisko Sal," produced and directed by George Wagner, can take credit, among other things, for its excellent supporting cast of Andy Devine, Thomas Gomez, Collette Lyons, Samuel S. Hinds and Fuzzy Knight. There are four lovely songs in the film, sung by Susanna and Collette Lyons.

Original screen play by Curt Siodmak and Gerald Geraghty and Miss Elizabeth Howze of Jackson.

Mrs. H. F. Vallery and young son, Jimmie, have moved from Weston to Bay St. Louis, where they will reside. Lt. Vallery is on duty overseas.

A revival meeting will be held at the Baptist church next week, with the opening service on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Rev. Joel Sturdevant, pastor of the Baptist church in Merigold, Mississippi, will conduct the services.

Mr. Toulme Holleman and daughter, Nettie, have come here for the summer months. Mr. Holleman spends the winters in the Bay with another daughter, Mrs. Eugene Davis, while Miss Holleman teaches school in Hattiesburg.

Spending a while in Long Beach as a guest of Misses Lelia and Diana Evans is Miss Ethel Otis.

Flower Arrangement

(Delivered Before the Bay-Waveland Garden Club By Mrs. William McCraney)

The first principle of flower arrangement is design. There are four factors that every good design should have—Composition, Focus, Balance and Unity.

Composition is the relation of the parts of each other. The planned grouping of the parts which gives a result quite distinct from that which would be obtained if the same parts were merely put together in a haphazard manner.

Focus is the relation of the parts to the whole, the establishment of a center of interest which draws and holds the attention and to which the rest of the design is subservient. It is the bull's eye of the target upon which the eye fixes itself.

Balance is the relation of the parts to the axis of the design, the axis being an imaginary line, readily established by the eye in viewing a design which it cuts into two halves. In most flower designs, this axis extends vertically from the base to or near the highest point. Usually but not always it passes thru the point of focus.

In a good design the apparent weight of the parts on either side of this axis line will balance each other, though the two sides may or may not be symmetrical.

Unity is the blending or harmonizing of the component parts of the design. The evidence of the use of anything which would bring a jarring or discordant into the design as a whole.

Color Harmony—as we have balance and unity in the design of the arrangement, we must have balance and unity in the color of the arrangement, so as to have proper color balance, we should not place our colors together, never spot them. Because to keep dark colors low in the arrangement and light colors high.

Do not cross stems. Don't let the flower holder show, conceal by using rocks, leaves or vines. Always use an uneven number of branches and flowers. No flower should be on exactly the same length with another. Avoid over crowding.

Steps in flower arrangement.
(a) Gather Material.
1. Cut material early in the morning when water content is highest.
2. Cut on a slant.
3. Cut in bud stage as much as possible.
4. Cut with as long a stem as possible.

(b) Condition Material.
1. Soak in water before arranging flowers.
2. Roses should be cut under water.
3. Crush stem end of woody material.

4. Seal ends of milky material
5. Split ends of bulbs or orchids.
6. Break and leave Chrysanthemums with jagged edge.

Everyone—
regardless of age
should have a savings account

We believe that age has nothing to do with a savings account. We believe that the day your baby is born an account should be opened in his or her own name. Many of our savings accounts are opened by men and women who have long since passed 3 score years and 10. There is no substitute for a savings account. We believe it just as important to the welfare of a baby, an adult or an older person as sleep and food. Because of our efficiency and speed it takes only a few minutes to open an account, so drop in tomorrow and get started on a regular savings program.

He was with the 18th Infantry, 84th Division and did not live to see his child. His wife and three children live in Los Angeles and Mrs. Grimmer was with them.

Mrs. Jacobs' home is in West Baldwin, Maine and Mrs. Grimmer will go from here to spend a week in New York and then go to West Baldwin to spend the summer with her mother.

Mrs. Jacobs' first novel won a $10,000 award while she was living in Bay St. Louis and since then she has written many books, one "The Valley of Decision" with the scenes laid in Bay St. Louis.

Mrs. Goldman had the Girl Scouts in on Sunday afternoon and in this way Mrs. Grimmer had the opportunity of seeing a number of her old friends, for she was a very active scout member when she lived here.

There have been other small parties for Mrs. Grimmer also.
